

Quench

Quench is the largest provider of filtered drinking water coolers and ice dispensers in North America. Instead of renting dispensers and receiving monthly plastic bottles of water to solve your program's drinking water needs, you can now save money and waste by going with Quench. They have advanced technology that filters tap water right from the pipes in your office, school or facility. You can drink the purest water in the most cost-effective and sustainable way. Depending on how much you currently pay for water bottle delivery, savings for Food & Supply Source members can be up to 50% on 3 of their top models. Register today for pricing.
